Wednesday & Thursday	Objective: Learn the Process of Relief Printmaking through the Linoleum printing technique
	Activities: When you have finished with your two designs in black sharpie, shown them to your teacher, and chosen your best design for printing, you are now ready to transfer your design to your linoleum plate. Use graphite paper to transfer your design. Make sure that the graphite paper is placed in the correct position. Trace your design with a blue or red ball point pen if you have one. Pencil and black pen work but are harder to see that you have traced all your lines. When your design has been transferred, use ebony to trace over all lines for greater visibility.
